FOREWARD

Young people have come to the St. Paul Bible Institute with a definite purpose. Some have answered the call to go to the foreign field, some to hold forth the Word of Life at home, others to render service in the realm of music. But, putting them all together, they have come for the purpose of acquiring training that will help them to serve Him better in the homeland, or in some dark corner of the earth.

May this Nineteen Hundred Forty-eight Shield serve to show the graduates, underclassmen, alumni, and friends the purpose of the St. Paul Bible Institute.

We release it with a prayer for God's blessing.

WINTER

Nippy winds left bare the surrounding Minnesota country side. Then came the first winter snow bringing a beauty all its own. In a way this was a picture of our lives; in coming to St. Paul we had left the bareness of the world and found the fullness of the Lord. The sense of His presence in classroom and in fellowship has linked our hearts closer together. St. Paul is home now!

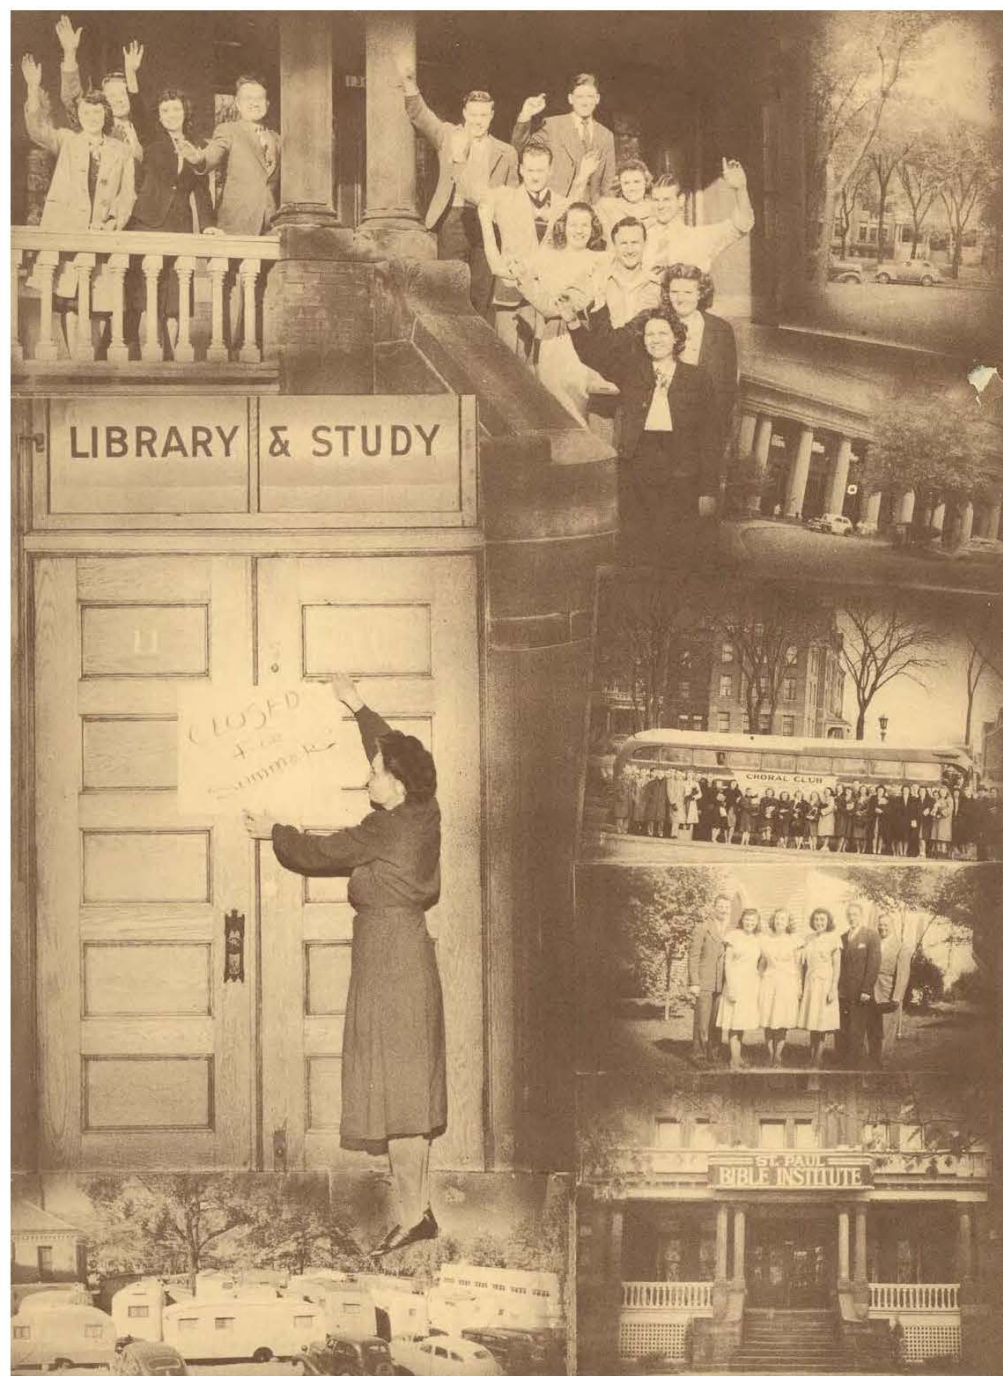

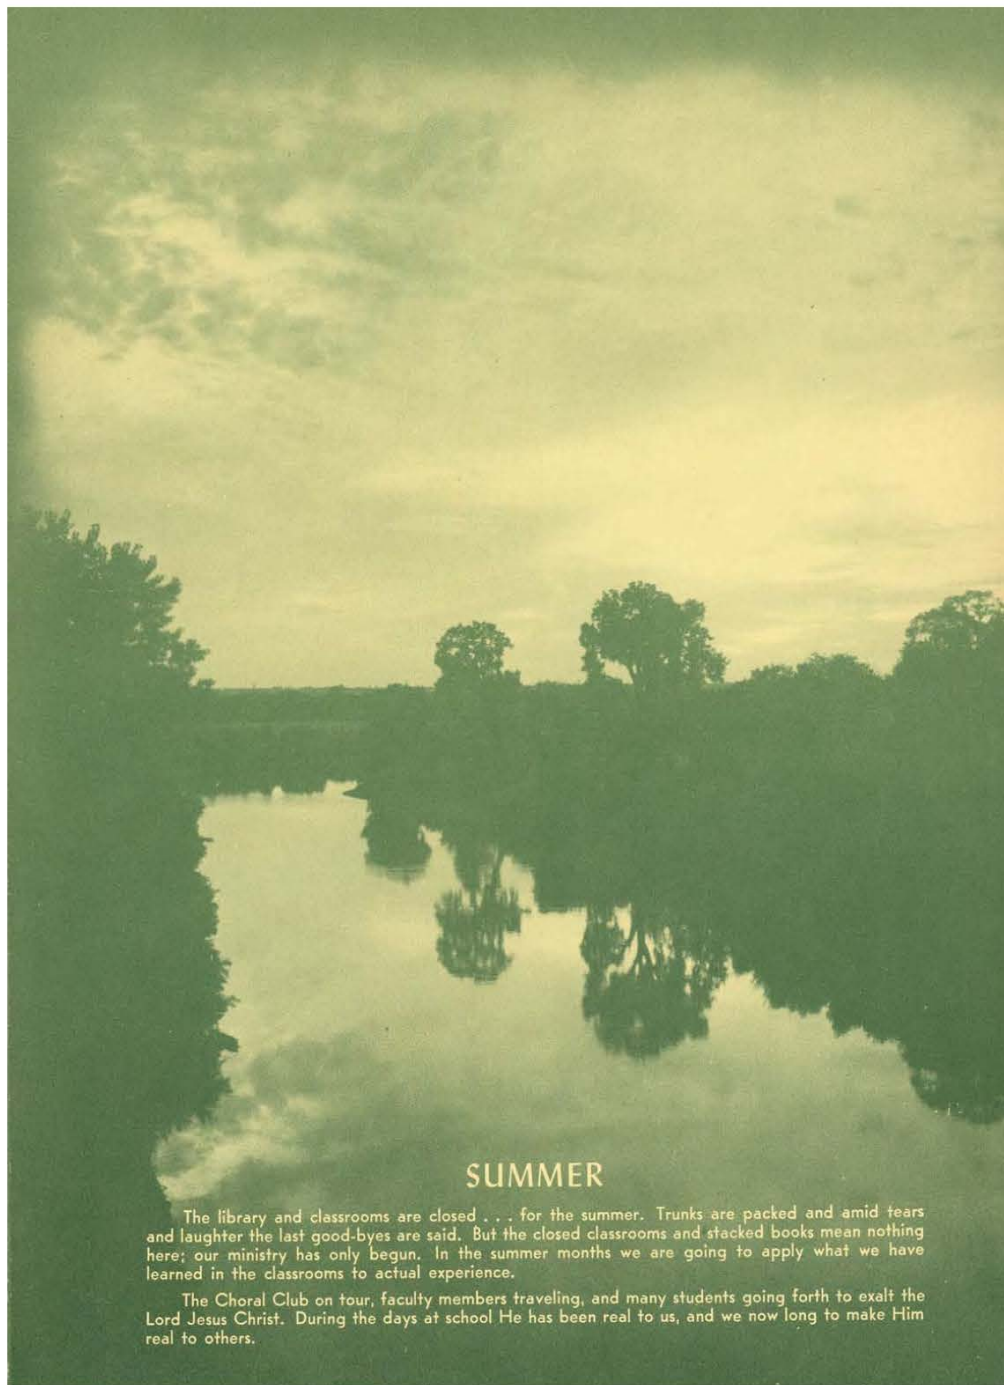

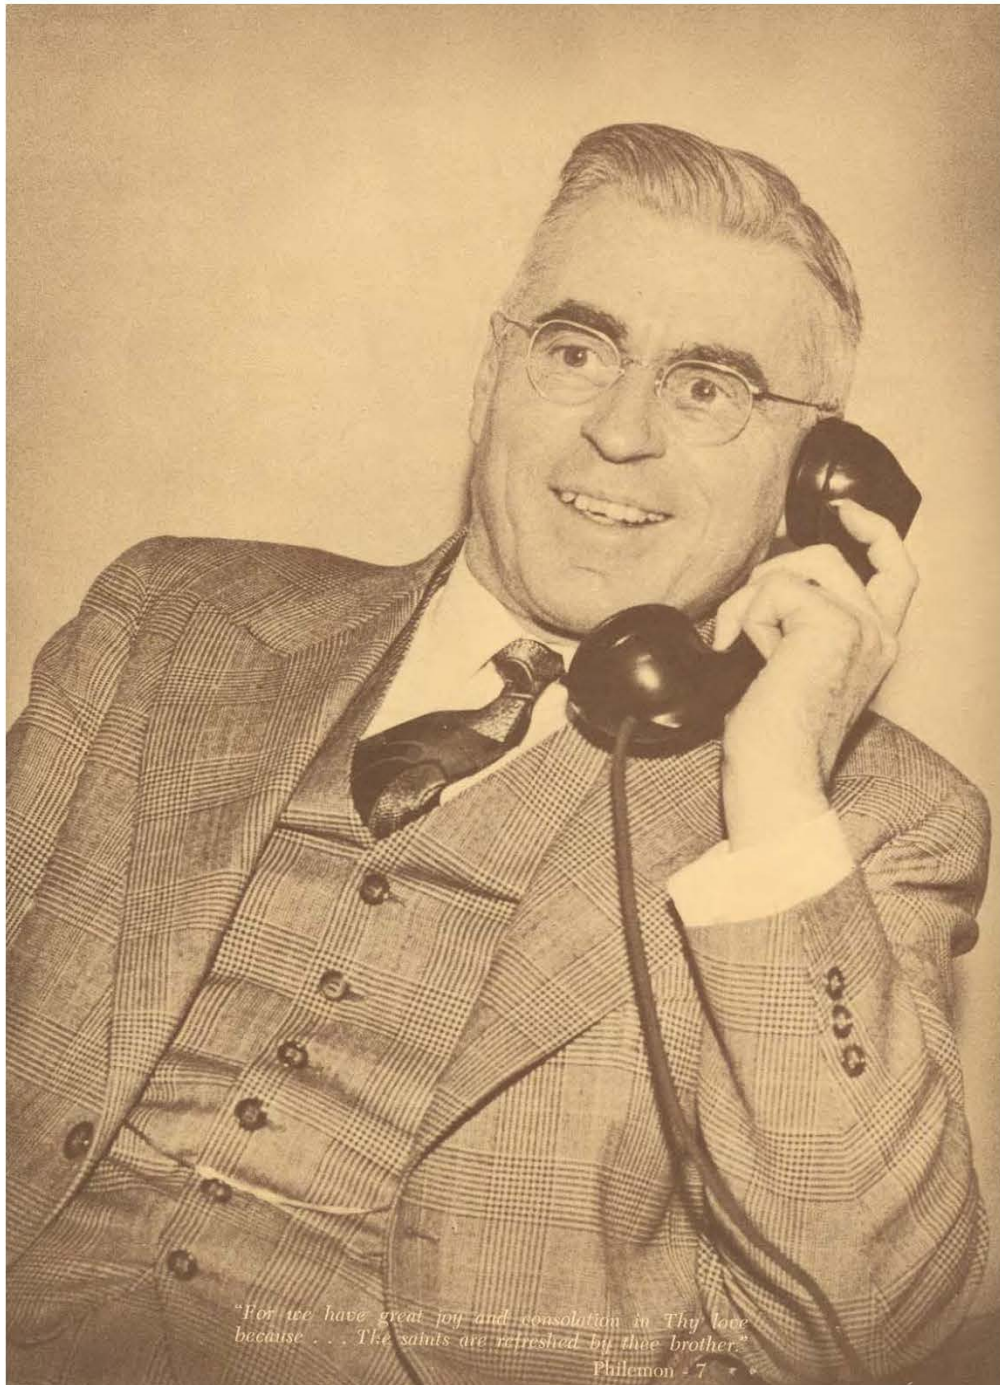

SPRING

Everything is now awake. Look, it seems as though all nature has put on her new outfit. The trees are no longer bare. They have donned their new dresses of green foliage. Here and there the flowers seem to be pushing up their tiny brilliant heads. Yes, we look about and the rocks and hills seem to sing His praises. These are exciting days. In spite of the rushing with exams and graduation; it is springtime within our hearts. Amid it all we pause to remember those who are waiting still for the news of the One who can give them the "happy heart."

*"For we have great joy and consolation in Thy love because . . . The saints are refreshed by thee brother."
Philemon - 7*

Dedication . . .

This is a book with a missionary message, and who is better qualified to receive this dedication than one who himself bore the message to the far country.

It is with deep appreciation we pay tribute to a man with a missionary heart. To one who has taught us thoroughly in the Word and whose life before both faculty and students, has been a constant source of inspiration as he has freely given of himself — doing it all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

To Rev. H. L. Turner, Vice-President, Dean, we affectionately dedicate this tenth volume of the SHIELD.

WE HONOR...

Rev. Don J. Kenyon who is leaving us to become an instructor at Nyack.

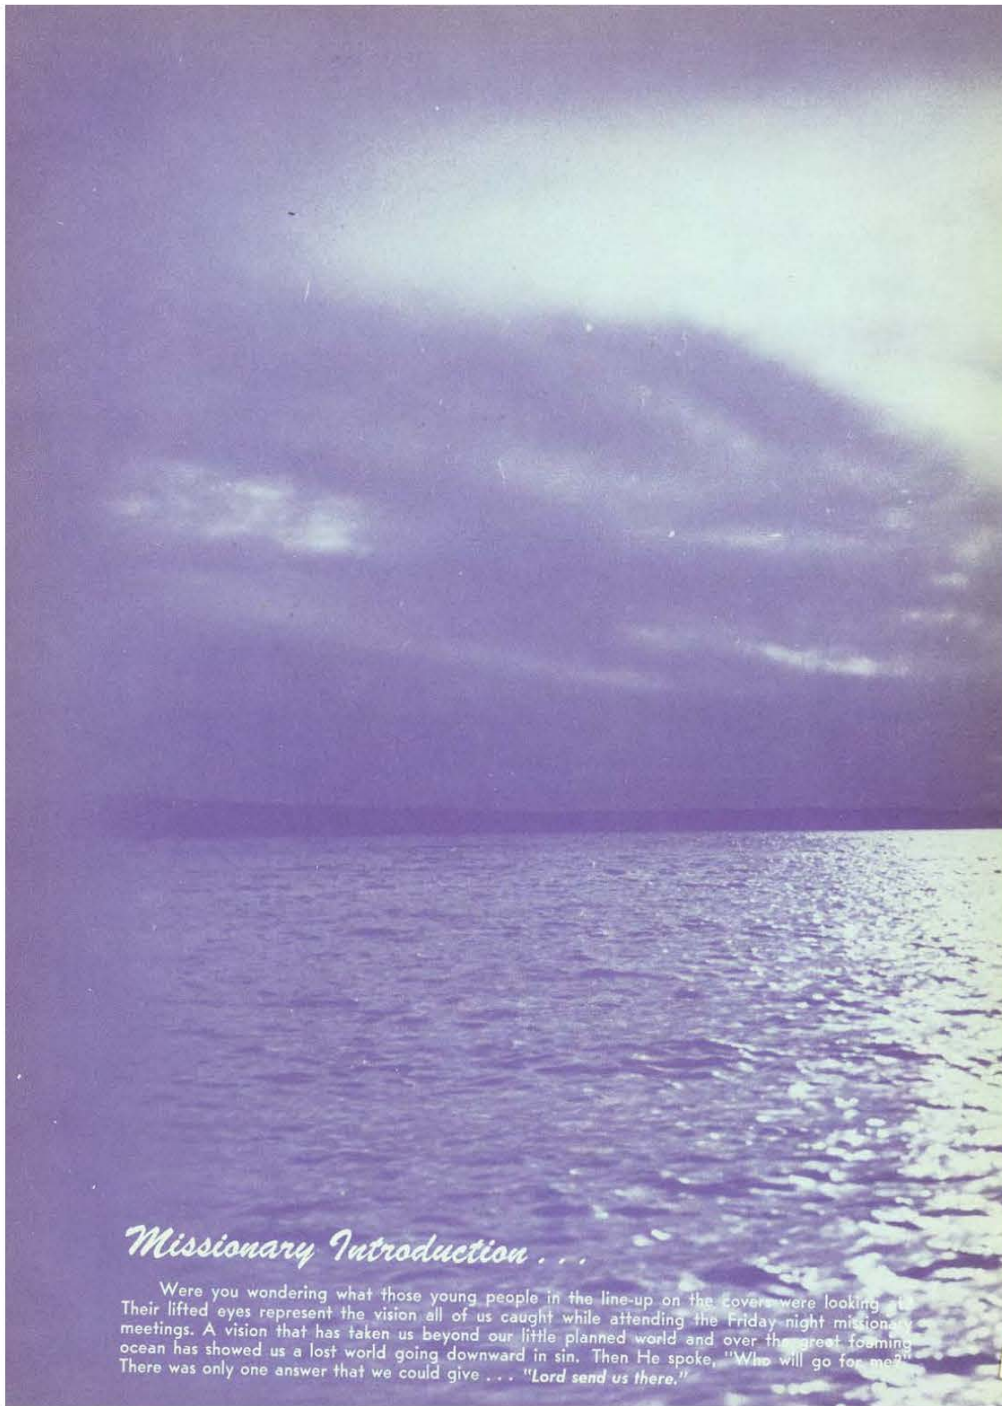

We have learned much from your classes, Mr. Kenyon, that we shall carry away not only in our heads, but in our hearts as well. We know the hillside will be richer because of your presence. Our loss is Nyacks gain. May you take the advice with you which you have so often given us, "just keep on keeping on" for Him.

"For we are bound always to give thanks for you." II Thess. 1:3.

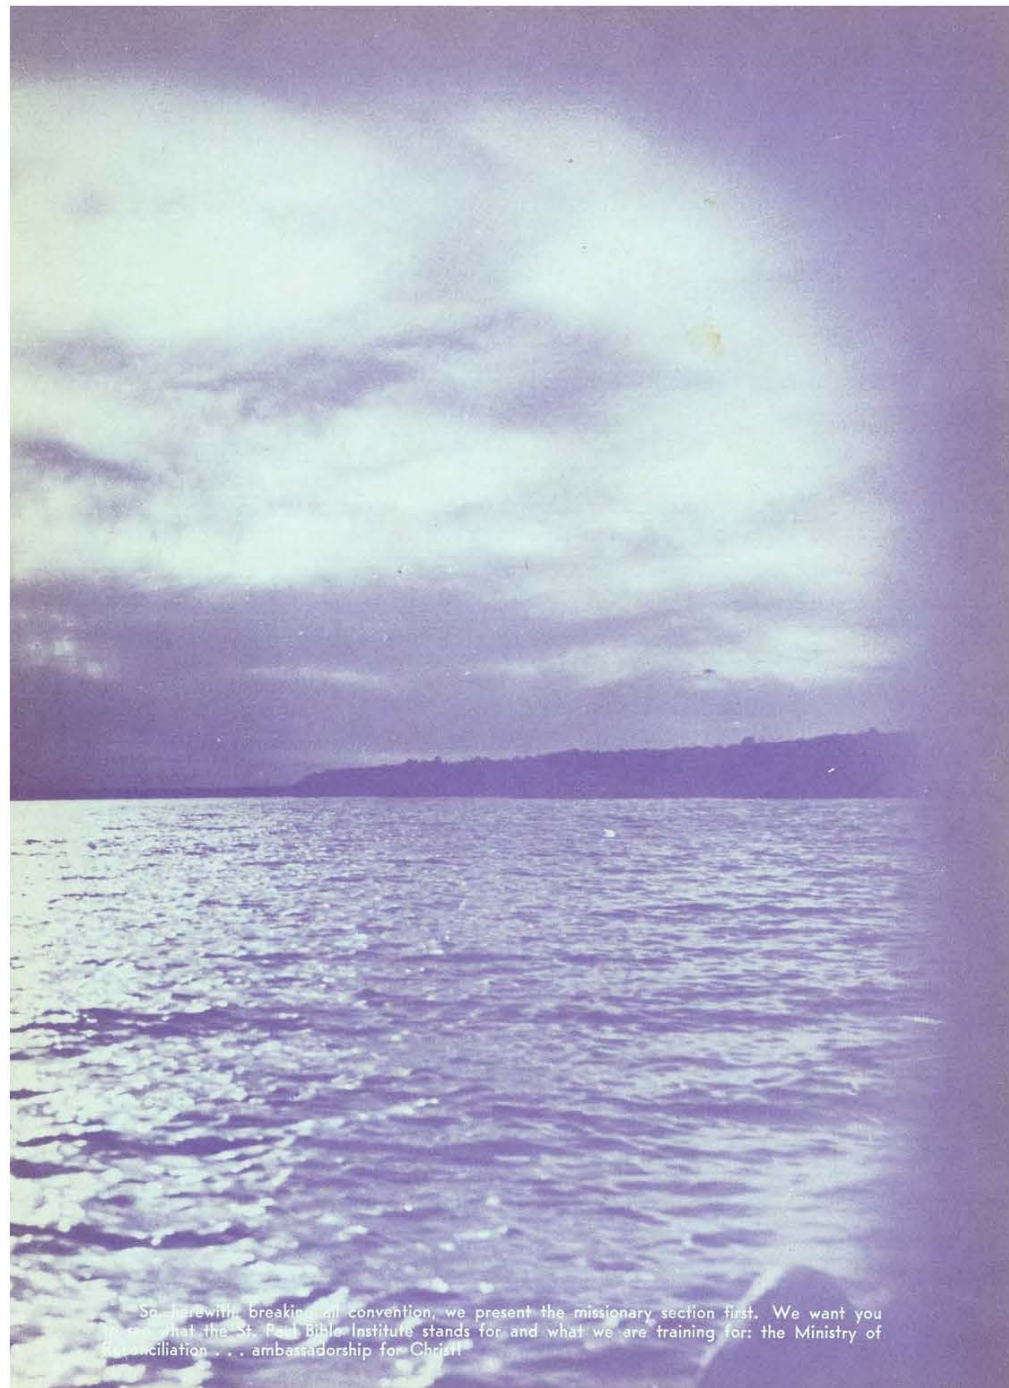

THANKSGIVING TIME AT ST. PAUL

Missionary Introduction . . .

Were you wondering what those young people in the line-up on the Evers were looking at? Their lifted eyes represent the vision all of us caught while attending the Friday night missionary meetings. A vision that has taken us beyond our little planned world and over the great foaming ocean has showed us a lost world going downward in sin. Then He spoke, "Who will go for me?" There was only one answer that we could give . . . "Lord send us there."

So, herewith, breaking all convention, we present the missionary section first. We want you to know what the St. Paul Bible Institute stands for and what we are training for: the Ministry of Reconciliation . . . ambassadorship for Christ!

MISSIONARIES

Is it something we just talk about, this business of being a missionary? No, here is the evidence that it has happened to young people. They studied here, even as we are studying now. There was a tug at our heart-strings as we attended their dedication services. They are missionaries now. It is no longer a dream but a reality. Look at the next page, all these went out this year.

St. Paul Bible School

Each year the portals of St. Paul swing open wide

To welcome to her fold, in warm embrace,
The youth who come, obedient to God's call,
To study and prepare to fill some lowly place.

Within these halls, impregnate with an atmosphere

So different from the world from whence he came,

The student seeks to lose himself in God;
To know and do His will, forsaking earthly fame.

But Oh! the challenge that each open heart receives

When missionaries, charged with holy zeal,
Come to present the needs of those out there,
And then for new recruits so earnestly appeal.

The Challenge and appeal are met by yielded lives,

And from St. Paul goes forth from year to year

A stream of gleaners for God's harvest fields
In regions far beyond the sea as well as here.

This Spring of '48 another band goes forth
Of students called to serve the Living Lord,
To sow and reap, to glean where others sow,
And when our King returns, receive a rich reward.

WORLD MISSIONS NIGHT

St. Paul Municipal Auditorium, February 12, 1948, 7:30 P. M.

This two page spread is an impressive reminder of one of the greatest nights in the year: WORLD MISSIONS NIGHT. Will you ever forget it?

This picture can only be a reminder, since it is impossible to reproduce here the amazing colored lighting, the magnificent singing, the impressive speaking and to re-create the awesome presence of God.

The editor is sorry to fail at this point but eager to state that the wonder of the event is less important than the eternal impression and world-wide vision left in over twenty-three hundred hearts who attended.

WORLD MISSIONS NIGHT . . .

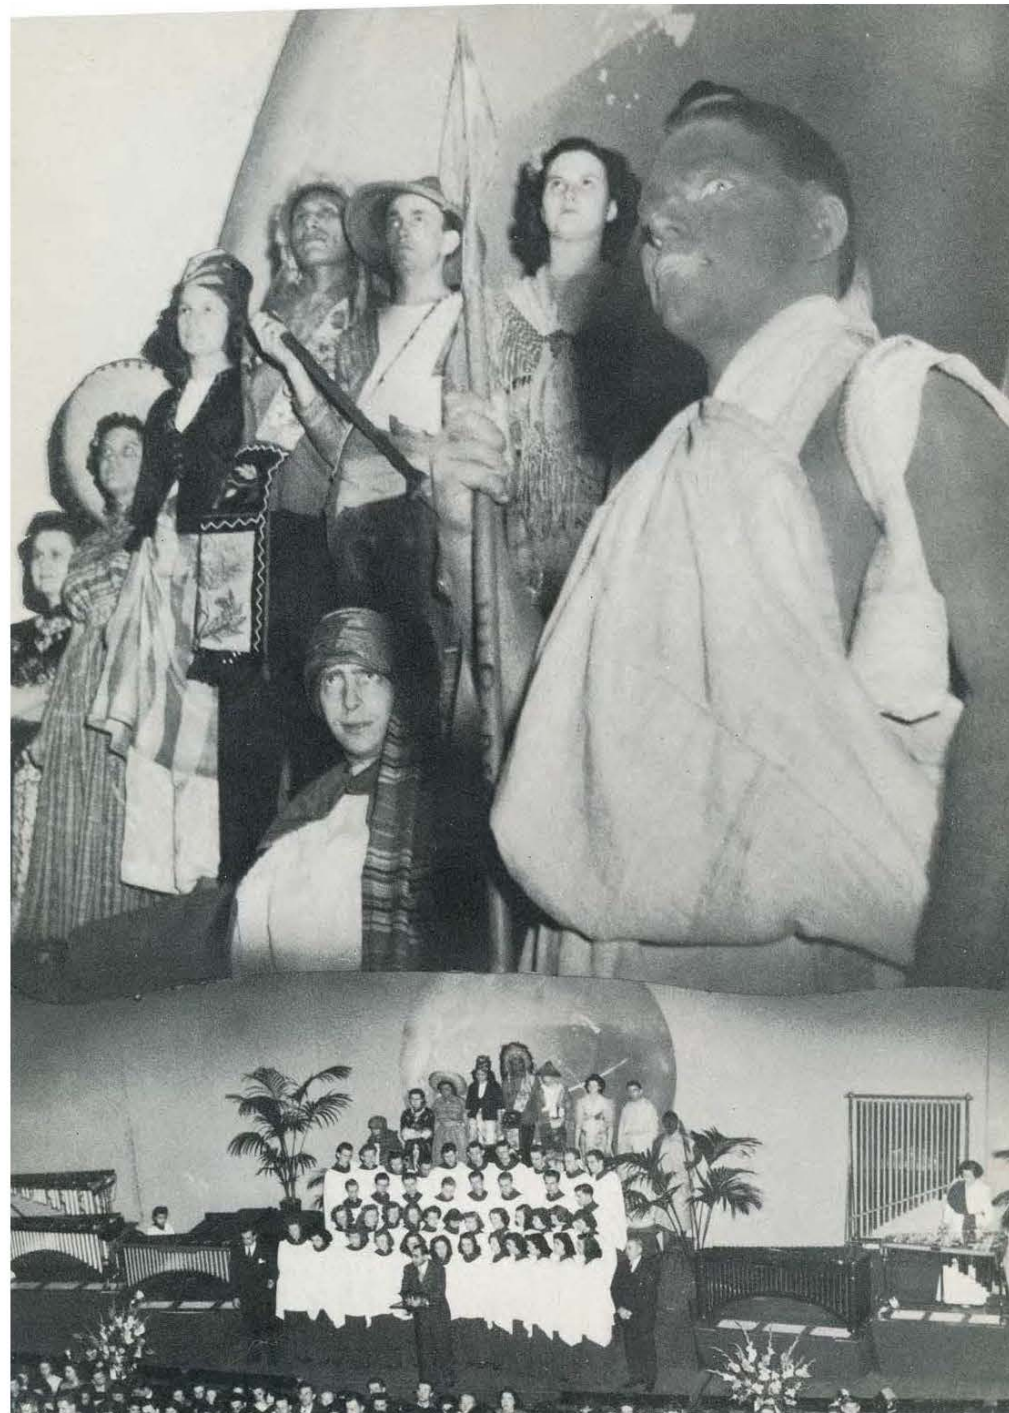

Chief outcome of World Missions Night was the rededication (scene at bottom of next page) of over 800 young peoples lives to serve the Lord. The offering for the night was $1,208.00 in addition to the $1,400.00 received during the day at the Twin-cities Area Youth Rally and a furnace and stoker given to Mo-Kah-Um, the Indian Bible School.

Here is what you saw on the preceding two pages of World Missions Night scenes. The four speakers are: Roy Kuljian, who spoke on The Near East; Irene Irvine, representing The Far East; Lois Hepner, emphasized needs of The Americas; and Merle Stombaugh, spoke about The Island World.

"Passing, passing fast away in thousands day by day . . ."

"Over the ocean millions I see, fettered in bondage, beckoning me, crushed beneath sorrow too heavy to bear, gladly I'll answer, Lord send me there."

First Semester: Clyde Decker, President; Doris Eames, Vice-President; Leona Tieszen, Secretary; Waldo Pust, Treasurer; Dorothy Oellerman, Curator; Max DeArney, Curator.

Under the leadership of our Missionary Societies the challenging need of the field is ever kept clear and keen. At many a Friday night meeting decisions have been made that will be felt around the world. Our missionary meetings always mean a time of blessing for us at St. Paul.

This, the largest missionary pledge ever made by the students of the St. Paul Bible Institute, amounted to $10,614.10.

Second Semester: Lloyd VanStone, President; June Strombeck, Vice-President; Pauline Breid, Secretary; Ralph Engel, Treasurer; Fauna Fay Gangwish, Curator; William Stewart, Curator.

79,000,000 SOULS, OUR PRAYER-BAND RESPONSIBILITY

Every day 5,000 of these people, on the average, pass into eternity . . . three a minute . . . most of whom have never heard the Gospel.

PAGAN AMERICA NEEDS CHRIST TOO

The field is white unto harvest, but where are the reapers? Has the missionary vision for a lost nation faded and the ardent love of many for their Master cooled? Has the missionary fire gone out?

Within our cities are teeming millions yet to be reached. Beneath the glitter and glamour of the lights of America are aching hearts longing to know of a "better way."

THEIR SOULS ARE BARREN TOO

How long a trip will it be for our brothers up the high, barren, cold roads of sin to the sunshine of their Father's home?

It seems that the answer depends much upon us.
 Some can go. Many can send. ALL CAN PRAY.
 We must reach the unevangelized masses of South America, else how shall they hear?

A T R O P H Y O F G O D ' S G R A C E

Here is a country thronging with souls in darkness, waiting for the light of Christ to be brought to them; here is a country which seems hungry for the "Christ way." For so long they have been entangled by the tentacles of Satan. The challenge is before us. We are living in a day when we shall witness the light breaking out on some darkened countenance, realizing that that individual knows the same Christ we know. How wonderful when the Lord touches men's hearts and lives, changing them as He has already done to these in dark Africa.

CHINA'S MILLIONS WAIT

What is the value of a soul?

To God it meant the giving of His only begotten Son; to Jesus it meant giving His life on Calvary; WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU?

Do you think that we are extremists on this subject? What about the million new graves in China EVERY MONTH, most of them clutching to earth's cold bosom, those who NEVER HAD A CHANCE TO ACCEPT CALVARY'S REDEMPTION!

We cannot solve China's problems for her, but we do hold the message that can bring peace to her restless sin-burdened millions who have never heard of the matchless name of Jesus. What value do YOU place upon a SOUL?

NO SAVIOUR, NO HOPE

It needs to be widely recognized that today the trumpet is sounding with a clear note of urgency from French Indo China. There is a call for the concentration of spiritual forces to counteract the powers of evil, unrest and strife so prevalent in this land. In spirit, therefore, we must stand shoulder-to-shoulder with our hard-pressed fellow warriors, remembering that "Our God will fight for us."

We believe we can truly say that this is an emergency. We should bend every effort to get the gospel to those who have never heard that Jesus came to save them.

YET TO BE WON

Again we emphasize that our task is to save, not to destroy. We are assured beyond doubt that the call to reach these millions comes not from dreams or suppositions, (if it had we would have been disillusioned long ago) but from the incontrovertible proofs of a Saving Gospel and the insistent commission of God's Word, "Go Ye . . . preach the gospel . . . to ALL nations . . ."

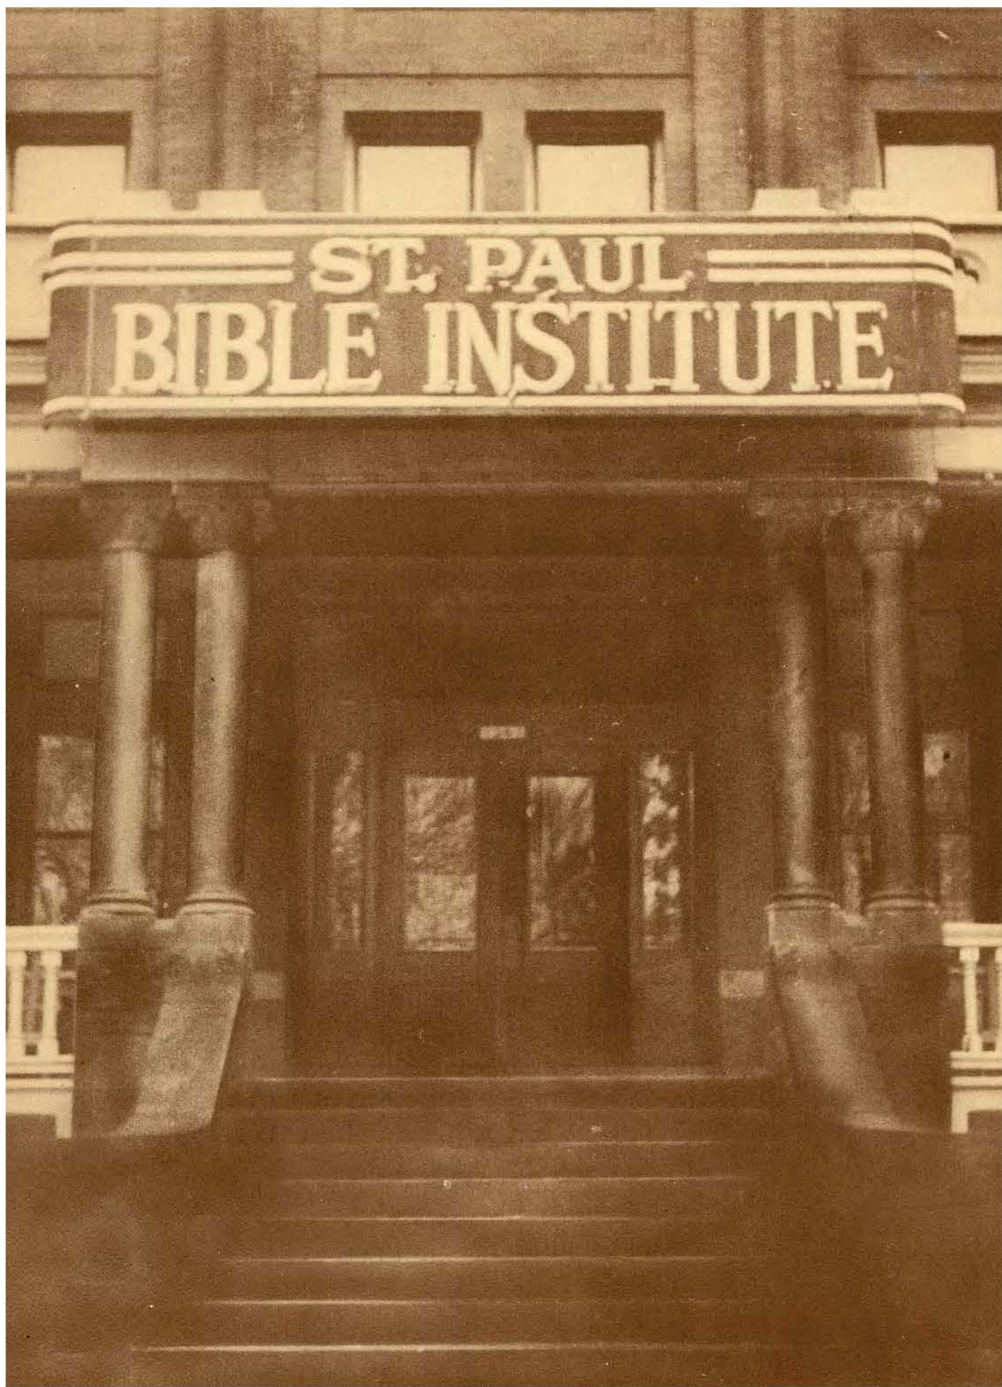

God is on the march. The time to be up and doing is here. We know not how long the opportunity will be ours.

The Call For Reapers

"Far and near the fields are teeming
With the waves of ripened grain;
Far and near their gold is gleaming
O'er the sunny slope and plain."

"O thou, whom thy Lord is sending,
Gather now the sheaves of gold;
Heav'nward then at evening wending,
Thou shalt come with joy untold."

"Lord of harvest, send forth reapers!
Hear us, Lord, to Thee we cry;
Send them now the sheaves to gather,
Ere the harvest-time pass by."

INTER-SCHOOL COUNCIL

The second week of November found a group of men representing the Christian and Missionary Alliance Bible schools at St. Paul. The members of the conference were Dr. Thomas Mosely and Rev. Harold Boon from the Nyack Training Institute; Rev. George Blackett and Rev. Hugh McVety from the Western Canadian Bible Institute; Rev. R. L. Cramer and Rev. R. D. Kilgour from Simpson Bible Institute; and Rev. George D. Strohm and Rev. S. W. Richardson of St. Paul Bible Institute. Rev. H. M. Shuman presided at the meetings.

These men met for several days in the interests of the educational work of our school, at which time practically all phases of our educational work were considered. Deep interest in the needs and progress of our school was shown by each member.

The plan of the Council is to visit the various schools in rotation in these annual meetings. The Western Canadian Bible Institute, Regina, Saskatchewan, was chosen as the meeting place for 1948.

FAREWELL

The keynote which sounded in our ears as we entered St. Paul Bible Institute a few years ago was: "Tomorrow is your future!" A hundred tomorrows came and went and new tomorrows took their places. Suddenly we realized that it was 1948—the Senior year. Our future had become the present. Tomorrow was now today. Anticipation has become realization. But we are aware that today is just another perspective from which we can more squarely view a more portentous tomorrow. Farewells always lose their sting as they become the triumphal entry into God's planned tomorrow.

As Class Advisor for another fine group of Seniors, I join in saying, "Farewell, dear St. Paul Bible Institute. Tomorrow is here and we are ready through Christ to give our utmost."

In Him,
D. J. KENYON

Class Poem

Our utmost for our Saviour, our utmost is our goal,
For we know it was His utmost that He gave to free our soul.
Less than this we count but failure, less than this is not the price;
But our utmost for our Saviour, it's our utmost for the Christ.

It's our utmost, not our almost, but our utmost we shall give,
That our lives might count for Jesus—it's for Jesus we shall live.

Our utmost is so meager and the need looms up so great;
There are millions still in darkness, and the time is growing late.
With our utmost we are yielding to our blessed Saviour's will,
So that He might be the foremost in the place we are to fill.

It's our utmost, not our almost, but our utmost we shall give,
That our lives might count for Jesus—it's for Jesus we shall live.

Evening Fellowship

As chairs are pulled out, elbows resting on the tables, faces aglow, home-time family altar is brought to life each Tuesday and Thursday evening at fellowship. Burdens are shared, prayer requests voiced, testimonies given, the Lord glorified.

Where do we go from here . . . ?

Fresh? Men? Well, maybe.

Maybe green now and undoubtedly bewildered, but making a sincere effort to determine God's will for their lives. This will be a year of decision.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE

Can't understand it, turning in slips . . . and on time.

"He That Winneth Souls Is Wise"

It has been said that just crossing an ocean does not make one a missionary and if you can not win souls today you will not win souls tomorrow. With this in mind we emphasize Christian Service as an important part of our preparation.

Each week a large number of students are out witnessing for Christ through various mediums such as child evangelism, street meetings, mission services, tract distribution, personal work, young peoples meetings, and church services. As the witness has gone forth there have been results; for has He not said, "My word shall not return unto Me void."

TRACT SOCIETY

SHIELD STAFF

Seven happy people and their advisor release this yearbook with the sincere wish that its Missionary message will stir your heart.

They are left to right across the two page spread: Virginia Daly, secretary; Doris Eames, assistant editor; Rev. J. C. Wenninger, advisor; Kenneth Christensen, advertising manager; Richard Harvey, treasurer, (replacing Waldo Pust, who left in the middle of the year); Thomas Jones, sales manager; June Strombeck, secretary; Doris Duckworth, art editor and Editor-in-Chief.

BAND

This enthusiastic group finds enjoyment in giving expression of their praise to the Lord in this manner. Under the direction of Mr. Tannehill, amateur musicians or otherwise, not only have a good time but a profitable one as well.

Ladies Choir

Under the capable, spiritual leadership of Miss Lucille Maxwell, the Ladies Choir has grown in number and enlarged its ministry.

It is rare, these days, to find a group of singers with more of a desire for reaching the lost with their message than bringing attention to their harmonious voices. But we can truthfully say that here we have such a group. Prayer has been their background and prayer has sent them forth to service in song.

Miss Lucille Maxwell, Director

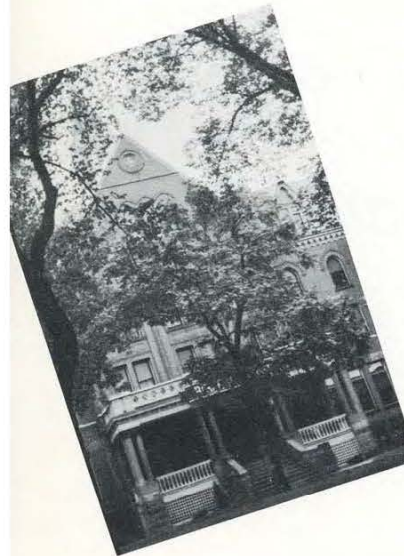

Margaret Johnston

Behind the scenes you will find these students, as well as others, helping to keep the "wheels moving."

CHORAL CLUB

Well . . . there it is . . . our missionary story. You have been introduced to lands that are steeped in sin and superstition . . . to lands that dwell in darkness while we dwell in the light. We hope that you have caught the cry of those helpless, hopeless millions. You have met young people in training for the service of the King, some of whom are to be ambassadors to a "far country" where hungry people wait for the glad news of the gospel.

Some may wonder about lives given to missionary service, but can we count the cost when God counted it not too great to give His Son? Can we say what we will give when Christ gave His all? Can we give less than those who went before us over the mountains, and valleys, through the jungles, through the muck and mire? We but follow the sign posts they left behind. They were missionaries who dared to go, to do, and to die. They were on a quest not for gold, but for souls.

Those stalwart soldiers of the cross are marching by . . . Carey . . . Chalmers . . . Livingstone . . . Jaffray and others. Their lives have challenged us, and even now we can hear them call: "Come fill in the gap . . . millions yet have never heard . . . go on to the places where we could not go." So, with a compassionate eye on those who still wait to hear, and with an expectant eye on the clouds for His soon return, we would step into line and join the marching army, pressing ever onward to reach more hungry souls before it is too late, that we may have trophies of grace to lay at Jesus' feet.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never sound retreat;

*He is sifting out the hearts of men before
His judgment seat;*

Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him; Be jubliant, my feet;

Our God is marching on.
